Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of ACR Mining Corporation (the Company), which comprise the statements of financial position as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity and statements of cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2023, and notes to the financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its financial performance and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2023 in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRSs).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the Philippines, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRSs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on the Supplementary Information Required Under Revenue Regulations No. 15-2010

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information required under Revenue Regulations No. 15-2010 in Note 16 to the financial statements is presented for purposes of filing with the Bureau of Internal Revenue and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of the management of ACR Mining Corporation. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statement taken as a whole.

Corporate Information

ACR Mining Corporation (the Company) was incorporated on February 6, 1996 as ACR Management Corporation to act as managers or managing agents of persons, firms, associations, corporations, partnerships and other entities. The company name was changed to "ACR Mining Corporation" on November 17, 2006 and changed its primary business purpose to carry on the business of surface mining operating metallic and non-metallic and of prospecting, exploration and of mining, milling, concentrating, converting, smelting, treating, refining, preparing for market, manufacturing, buying, selling, exchanging and otherwise producing and dealing in all other kinds of ores, metals, and minerals, hydrocarbons, acids and chemicals, and in the products and by-products of every kind and description and by whatsoever process, the same can be or may hereafter be produced; to purchase, lease, option, locate, or otherwise acquire, own, exchange, sell, or otherwise dispose of, pledge, mortgage, deed in trust, hypothecate, and deal in mines, mining claims, mineral lands, coal lands, timber lands, water and water rights, and other property, both real and personal.

The registered office address of the Company is Alsons Bldg., 2286 Chino Roces Avenue, Makati City, Philippines.

Previously, the Company was a wholly owned subsidiary of Alsons Consolidated Resources, Inc. (ACR), a publicly-listed company in the Philippines. ACR's investment in the Company was declared as property dividend in May 2015. As a result, the Company became a public company under Rule 3 (M) of the Amended Implementing Rules and Regulations of the Securities and Regulation Code.

Status of Operations

The Company incurred net losses amounting to ₱643,322 and ₱646,040 for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively and has a deficit of ₱5,020,599 and ₱4,377,277 as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively. Also, the Company's current liabilities have exceeded the current assets by ₱97,092,262 and ₱92,438,329 as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively. One of the major stockholders has expressed its commitment to provide continuing financial support to the Company in order for the Company to fully service its liabilities when due, for at least 12 months from the balance sheet date. Thus, the financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis.

Approval and Authorization for the Issuance of the Financial Statements

The financial statements as at December 31, 2023 and 2022 and for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2023, were approved and authorized for issuance by the Board of Directors (BOD) on March 11, 2024.

2. Status of Operations

The Company's initial activity involved the acquisition of Alsons Development & Investment Corporation's (ADIC) majority interest in a mining claim, referred to as the Manat Mining Claims. Covered by Mineral Production Sharing Agreement (MPSA) Serial No. 094-97-XI for 25 years up to November 2022, the mining claim has a total area of 1,547.32 hectares. It is located in the Municipalities of Nabunturan and Maco, Province of Compostela Valley.

Previous exploration work at the project area identified three (3) sub-parallel northwest trending mineralized structures: Pagtulian, Katungbuan/Taglayag and Magas. Detailed work on the Magas Vein Zone (MVZ) so far revealed an estimated Joint Ore Reserves Committee standard resource of 2.7 million tons containing: 2.8 grams per ton gold, 26 grams per ton silver, 0.09% copper, 0.85% lead, and 1.58% zinc.

On October 25, 2012, the Declaration of Mining Project Feasibility was submitted to the Mines and Geosciences Bureau. As at December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Manat MPSA is in the exploration phase of development (see Note 8).

On February 22, 2022, the DENR has approved the assignment of MPSA Serial No. 094-97-XI by ADIC to the Company pursuant to the Deed of Assignment dated March 25, 2019.

On June 21, 2022, the DENR approved the extension of the MPSA for a period of five (5) years until November 2027.

In 2023, the Company is in the process of securing an extension for the MPSA for another 25 years to facilitate the mining operations.

Current versus Noncurrent Classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the statement of financial position based on current or noncurrent classification.

An asset is current when it is:

- expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- expected to be realized within 12 months after the reporting period; or
- cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as noncurrent.

A liability is current when it is:

- expected to be settled in the normal operating cycle;
- held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- expected to be settled within 12 months after the reporting period; or
- there is no unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

The Company classifies all other liabilities as noncurrent.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are classified as noncurrent assets and liabilities.

Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- in the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a nonfinancial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

Assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable; and
- Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The Company determines the policies and procedures for both recurring and non-recurring fair value measurements. For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy.

The Company recognizes transfers into and transfers out of fair value hierarchy levels by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) as at the date of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial Assets

Initial recognition and measurement of financial assets

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortized cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI), and fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the Company's business model for managing them.

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortized cost or FVTOCI, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are 'solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI)' on the principal amount outstanding. This assessment is referred to as the SPPI test and is performed at an instrument level.

The Company's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both.

Subsequent measurement of financial assets

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories:

- Financial assets at amortized cost (debt instruments)
- Financial assets at FVTOCI with recycling of cumulative gains and losses (debt instruments)
- Financial assets designated at FVTOCI with no recycling of cumulative gains and losses upon derecognition (equity instruments)
- Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets at amortized cost

This category is the most relevant to the Company. The Company measures financial assets at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The financial asset is held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are SPPI on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest (EIR) method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the asset is derecognized, modified or impaired.

The Company's financial assets at amortized cost include cash and receivables.

Impairment of financial assets

The Company recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses (ECLs) for all debt instruments not held at FVTPL. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

ECLs are recognized in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12 months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

The Company applied lifetime ECL calculation on its financial assets. The Company determines probability of default and loss-given default based on available data, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

The Company triggers its assessment whether its financial asset is in default when contractual payments are past due. However, in certain cases, the Company may also consider a financial asset to be in default when internal or external information indicates that the Company is unlikely to receive the outstanding contractual amounts in full before taking into account any credit enhancements held by the Company. A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows.

Financial Liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings, payables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value and, in the case of other financial liabilities, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include accounts payable and other current liabilities and due to related parties.

Subsequent measurement

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as interest expense in profit or loss.

Derecognition of Financial Assets and Liabilities

Financial assets. A financial asset (or, where applicable a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized when:

- the Company's right to receive cash flows from the asset has expired;
- the Company retains the right to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or,
- the Company has transferred its right to receive cash flows from the asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the assets, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Where the Company has transferred its right to receive cash flows from an asset and has entered into a “pass-through” arrangement, and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognized to the extent of the Company’s continuing involvement in the asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

Financial liability

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or has expired. Where an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in profit or loss.

Mining Rights

Mining rights are stated at cost less any accumulated depletion and any accumulated impairment losses. The cost of the mining rights includes the purchase price and other costs directly attributable to the acquisition. Mining rights are not yet subject to depletion until actual extraction of mineral reserves. Depletion of the mining rights is computed using the unit-of-production method. Mining rights are charged to current operations in the year these are determined to be worthless.

Impairment assessments are made if events or changes of circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the asset may not be recoverable.

Deferred Mine Exploration Costs

Expenditures for exploration works on mining properties (i.e., acquisition of rights to explore, topographical, geological, geochemical and geophysical studies, exploratory drilling, trenching, sampling, and activities in relation to evaluating the technical feasibility and commercial viability of extracting mineral resource) are included under “Deferred mine exploration costs” account in profit or loss. If and when recoverable reserves are determined to be present in commercially producible quantities, the deferred exploration expenditures, and subsequent mine development costs are capitalized as part of the mine properties and mine development costs included as part of property, plant and equipment.

A valuation allowance is provided for unrecoverable deferred mine exploration costs based on the Company’s assessment of the future prospects of the exploration project. Full provision is made for the impairment unless it is probable that such costs are expected to be recouped through successful exploration and development of the area of interest, or alternatively, by its sale. If the project does not prove to be viable or when the project is abandoned, the deferred mine exploration costs associated with the project and the related impairment provisions are written off. Exploration areas are considered permanently abandoned if the related permits of the exploration have expired and/or there are no definite plans for further exploration and/or development.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are carried at cost, less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value.

The initial cost of property and equipment consists of its purchase price and any cost directly attributable to bringing the property and equipment to the location and its working condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. The cost of replacing a part of an item of property and equipment is included in the carrying amount of such an item when that cost is incurred, if the recognition criteria are met.

Major repairs are capitalized as part of property and equipment only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the items can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are charged against current operations as incurred.

Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of one (1) year for office equipment and furniture and fixtures.

Depreciation and amortization ceases at the earlier of the date that the item is classified as held for sale or included in a disposal group that is classified as held for sale in accordance with PFRS 5 and the date the asset is derecognized.

The assets' estimated useful lives and depreciation method are reviewed periodically to ensure that the periods and method of depreciation are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits from items of property and equipment. The residual value, if any, is also reviewed and adjusted if appropriate, at each statement of financial position date.

When a property and equipment is retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and the related accumulated depreciation and amortization and any impairment in value are removed from statement of financial position and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss.

Fully depreciated property and equipment are retained in the accounts until they are no longer in use.

Impairment of Nonfinancial Assets

The Company assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is an indication that the nonfinancial assets may be impaired. If any such indication exists and when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's fair value less cost to sell and its value-in-use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value-in-use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pretax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less cost to sell, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples and other available fair value indicators. Any impairment loss is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company makes an estimate of recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not increase its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation and depletion, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the Company's profit or loss unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case, the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase.

Income Tax

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted as at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is provided using the balance sheet liability method on all temporary differences at balance sheet date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred income tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences and net operating loss carryover (NOLCO), to the extent that it is probable that taxable income will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and carryforward benefits of NOLCO can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax assets to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred income tax assets are reassessed at each balance sheet date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable income will allow the deferred income tax assets to be recovered.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the rate that is expected to apply to the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted as at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset, if a legally enforceable right exists to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and same taxation authority.

Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pretax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Where discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as an interest expense.

Basic/Diluted Earnings (Loss) Per Share

Basic/diluted earnings (loss) per share is determined by dividing net income (loss) by the weighted average number of shares issued and outstanding after giving retroactive adjustment for any stock dividends and stock splits declared during the period. The Company has no financial instrument or other contract that may entitle its holder to common shares that would result to diluted earnings (loss) per share.

Segment Reporting

The Company has only one segment which pertains to its mine exploration activities. The operating segment is reported in a manner that is more consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM). The CODM, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segment, has been identified as the BOD that makes strategic decisions. The Company has no inter-segment sales and transactions.

Events After the End of Reporting Period

Events after the end of the reporting period that provide additional information about the Company's financial position at the end of the reporting period (adjusting events) are reflected in the financial statements. Events after the end of the reporting period that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the notes to financial statements when material.

5. Significant Judgments, Accounting Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRSs requires the Company to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses and disclosure of contingent assets and contingent liabilities at the end of reporting period. Future events may occur which will cause the judgments, estimates and assumptions used in arriving at the estimates to change.

In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has made the following judgments, apart from those involving estimations, which has the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements. The judgments are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as at the dates of the financial statements.

Determination and classification of a joint arrangement

Judgment is required to determine when the Company has joint control over an arrangement, which requires an assessment of the relevant activities and when the decisions in relation to those activities require unanimous consent. Classifying the arrangement requires the Company to assess their rights and obligations arising from the arrangement. Specifically, the Company considers:

- The structure of the joint arrangement - whether it is structured through a separate vehicle
- When the arrangement is structured through a separate vehicle, the Company also considers the rights and obligations arising from:
 - the legal form of the separate vehicle;
 - the terms of the contractual arrangement; and
 - other facts and circumstances (when relevant)

This assessment often requires significant judgment, and a different conclusion on joint control and also whether the arrangement is a joint operation or a joint venture, may materially impact the accounting. The Company determined that its joint venture agreement with Southern Exploration Corporation (SECO) is not a joint arrangement under PFRS 11 (see Note 8).

Management's use of going concern assumption

Management believes that with the commitment from one of its major stockholder to provide continuing financial support in order for the Company to fully service its liabilities when due, for at least 12 months from the balance sheet date, the Company will be able to continue as a going concern. Accordingly, the financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis of accounting.

Determination of impairment of mining rights and deferred mine exploration costs

The Company performs an impairment review of mining rights and deferred mine exploration costs when the following impairment indicators, among others, are present:

- the period for which the Company has the right to explore in the specific area has expired during the period or will expire in the near future, and is not expected to be renewed;
- substantive expenditures on further exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources in the specific area is neither budgeted nor planned;
- exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources in the specific area have not led to the discovery of commercially viable quantities of mineral resources and the Company has decided to discontinue such activities in the specific area; and
- sufficient data exist to indicate that, although a development in the specific area is likely to proceed, the carrying amount of the mining rights and deferred project costs asset is unlikely to be recovered in full from successful development or by sale.

Based on management's assessment, the Company did not identify any indicators of impairment that would trigger an impairment review considering that the MPSA has been renewed by DENR (see Note 2). The carrying amounts of mining rights and deferred mine exploration costs as at December 31, 2023 and 2022 are disclosed in Note 8 to the financial statements.

Recognition of deferred income tax asset

The Company's assessment on the recognition of deferred income tax assets on the carryforward benefits of NOLCO and unrealized foreign exchange loss is based on the forecasted taxable income of the following year. This forecast is based on the Company's past results and future expectations on revenues and expenses.

As at December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company did not recognize deferred income tax assets on the carryforward benefits of NOLCO and unrealized foreign exchange loss since management believes that it is more likely that the Company will not have sufficient future taxable profits against which the deferred income tax asset can be utilized (see Note 13).

6. Cash

	2023	2022
Cash on hand	₱63,130	₱67,085
Cash in bank	1,030,860	1,537,009
	₱1,093,990	₱1,604,094

Cash in bank earns interest at the respective interest rate per annum. Interest income earned in 2023, 2022 and 2021 amounted to ₱1,013, ₱728, and ₱715, respectively.

7. Receivables

Receivables consist of noninterest-bearing advances for business expenses which are normally liquidated within a year. As at December 31, 2023 and 2022, the receivables amounted to ₱201,435 and ₱125,009, respectively.

8. Mining Rights and Deferred Mine Exploration Costs

Mining Rights

In 1997, ADIC, a stockholder of Alsons Corporation (AC) and ACR, entered into an MPSA with the Republic of the Philippines for the exploration, sustainable development and commercial utilization of mineral deposits covering 1,547.32 hectares in the Municipalities of Nabunturan and Maco, Province of Compostela Valley (the Manat Claims).

In 1999, ADIC and SECO entered into a joint venture (the Joint Venture), for the purpose of prospecting, exploring, developing and mining the Manat Claims. Under the Joint Venture Agreement, SECO shall conduct exploration works on the Manat Claims. SECO's participating interest shall be (a) 25% after completion of certain work program and/or incurring total expenditures of US$1,000,000; and (b) 50% after completion of certain work program and/or incurring total expenditure of US$2,250,000. As soon as SECO earned 50% participating interest, SECO and ADIC shall register the joint venture as a partnership to qualify it to hold legal title to the Manat Claims and other properties acquired by the Joint Venture. This joint venture agreement does not fall as joint venture arrangement under PFRS 11.

In 2007, the Company acquired ADIC's 75% participating interest in the Joint Venture for ₱195,000,000. The participating interest of the Company in the Joint Venture with SECO is 75% as at December 31, 2023 and 2022.

The carrying value of the mining rights as at December 31, 2023 and 2022 amounted to ₱195,000,000.

On February 22, 2022, the DENR approved the assignment of MPSA Serial No. 094-97-XI by ADIC to the Company pursuant to the Deed of Assignment dated March 25, 2019.

On June 21, 2022, the DENR approved the extension of the MPSA term for a period of five (5) years.

Deferred Mine Exploration Costs

This account consists of deferred mine exploration costs incurred by the Company for the mineral deposits in the Manat Claims. As at December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Manat MPSA is still in the exploration phase of development. The carrying value of deferred mine exploration costs as at December 31, 2023 and 2022 amounted to ₱126,717,163 and ₱122,710,040, respectively.

14. Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The Company's financial instruments are composed of cash, accounts payable and other current liabilities and due to related parties. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise finances for the Company's operations.

The main risks arising from the Company's financial instruments are credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's BOD and management review and agree on the policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarized below.

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from the default of the counterparty to make payments when due. The maximum exposure to credit risk for the Company's financial asset is represented by the carrying amount of cash in bank amounting to ₱1,030,860 and ₱1,537,009 as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively (see Note 6). The Company's financial asset as at December 31, 2023 and 2022 is neither past due nor impaired.

The credit quality of the Company's financial asset based on historical experience with the corresponding third party is considered as high quality financial assets.

High quality financial assets pertain to those investments to counterparties with good credit standing or loans and receivables that are consistently paid before the maturity.

Cash in bank is deposited in a reputable bank in the Philippines, hence, considered as high-quality financial asset.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its payment obligations when they fall due under normal and stress circumstances. To limit this risk, the Company closely monitors its cash flows and ensures that credit facilities are available to meet its obligations as and when they fall due.

The Company seeks to manage its liquidity profile to be able to finance its capital expenditures and service its maturing debts. The Company's objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility through valuation of projected and actual cash flow information.

Based on the Company's assessment, the carrying values of its cash as at December 31, 2023 and 2022 are readily available for liquidity purposes. As at December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company's accounts payable and other current liabilities amounting to ₱4,540,524 and ₱4,506,366, respectively, are payable within a year (see Note 10).

Due to related parties amounting to ₱93,847,163 and ₱89,661,066 as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively, is due and demandable (see Note 11).

The Company believes that the creditors, especially related parties, will not immediately demand for payment. In the event that these are demanded for payment, the Company can access financing through borrowings and support from its major stockholders.

Capital Management

The primary objective of the Company's capital management is to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide returns for stockholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital.

The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it, in light of changes in business and economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the dividend payment to stockholders, return capital to stockholders or issue new shares.

The Company is not subject to any externally imposed capital requirements. No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes during the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022.

The amount of capital is the total equity balance as at December 31, 2023 and 2022 as shown in the statements of financial position.

Fair Value

The carrying value of cash in bank, receivables, accounts payable and other current liabilities and due to related parties approximates their fair values as at the end of reporting period due to the short-term nature of these financial instruments.

ACR MINING CORPORATION

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Corporate Information and Authorization for Issuance of the Financial Statements

Corporate Information

ACR Mining Corporation (the Company), was incorporated on February 6, 1996 as ACR Management Corporation to act as managers or managing agents of persons, firms, associations, corporations, partnerships and other entities. The company name was changed to ACR Mining Corporation on November 17, 2006 and changed its primary business purpose to carry on the business of surface mining operating metallic and non-metallic and of prospecting, exploration and of mining, milling, concentrating, converting, smelting, treating, refining, preparing for market, manufacturing, buying, selling, exchanging and otherwise producing and dealing in all other kinds of ores, metals, and minerals, hydrocarbons, acids and chemicals, and in the products and by-products of every kind and description and by whatsoever process, the same can be or may hereafter be produced; to purchase, lease, option, locate, or otherwise acquire, own, exchange, sell, or otherwise dispose of pledge, mortgage, deed in trust, hypothecate, and deal in mines, mining claims, mineral lands, coal lands, timber lands, water and water rights, and other property, both real and personal.

The registered office address of the Company is Alsons Bldg., 2286 Chino Roces Ave., Makati City, Metro Manila, Philippines.

2. Status of Operations

The Company's initial activity involved the acquisition of Alsons Development & Investment Corporation's (Aldevinco) majority interest in a mining claim, referred to as the Manat Mining Claims. Covered by Mineral Production Sharing Agreement (MPSA) Serial No. 094-97-XI for 25 years up to November 2022, the mining claim has a total area of 1,547.32 hectares. It is located in the Municipalities of Nabunturan and Maco, Province of Compostela Valley. Previous exploration work at the project area identified three sub-parallel northwest trending mineralized structures: Pagtulian, Katungbuan/Taglayag and Magas. Detailed work on the Magas Vein Zone (MVZ) so far revealed an estimated Joint Ore Reserves Committee standard resource of 2.7 million tons containing: 2.8 grams per ton gold, 26 grams per ton silver, 0.09% copper, 0.85% lead, and 1.58% zinc. On October 25, 2012, the Declaration of Mining Project Feasibility was submitted to the Mines and Geosciences Bureau. As of June 30, 2024, the Manat MPSA is in the exploration phase of development.

On February 17, 2017, the Company received a Show Cause Order (SCO) dated February 13, 2017 from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR). The SCO directed the Company to provide reasons why the DENR should not cancel its MPSA Serial No. 094-97-XI. Consequently, on February 20, 2017, the Company responded to the DENR stating that they have not committed any violation that would warrant cancellation of the Company's MPSA.

In 2022, the Department of Environment and National Resources (DENR) approved the Company's request for the reinstatement of unconsummated term of its MPSA for the period of 5 years or until November 20, 2027.

The Company will endeavor to secure an extension for the MPSA for another 25 years to facilitate the mining operations.

5. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Current versus Noncurrent Classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the statements of financial position on current or noncurrent classification.

An asset is current when it is:

- expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- held primarily for the purpose of trading,
- expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting periods; or
- cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period,

All other assets are classified as noncurrent.

A liability is current when it is:

- expected to be settled in the normal operating cycle;
- held primarily for the purpose of trading,
- expected to be settled within twelve months after the reporting periods; or
- there is no unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Company classifies all other liabilities as noncurrent.

Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- in the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a nonfinancial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

Assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable; and
- Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The Company determines the policies and procedures for both recurring and non-recurring fair value measurements. For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy.

The Company recognizes transfers into and transfers out of fair value hierarchy levels by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) as at the date of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer.

Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial Assets

Initial recognition and measurement of financial assets

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortized cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI), and fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL). The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the Company's business model for managing them.

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortized cost or FVTOCI, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are 'solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI)' on the principal amount outstanding. This assessment is referred to as the SPPI test and is performed at an instrument level.

The Company's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both.

Subsequent measurement of financial assets

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories:

- Financial assets at amortized cost (debt instruments)
- Financial assets at FVTOCI with recycling of cumulative gains and losses (debt instruments)
- Financial assets designated at FVTOCI with no recycling of cumulative gains and losses upon derecognition (equity instruments)
- Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets at amortized cost

This category is the most relevant to the Company. The Company measures financial assets at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The financial asset is held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are SPPI on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest (EIR) method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the asset is derecognized, modified or impaired.

The Company's financial assets at amortized cost include cash and receivables

Impairment of financial assets

The Company recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses (ECLs) for all debt instruments not held at FVTPL. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Company expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

ECLs are recognized in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12-months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

The Company applied lifetime ECL calculation on its financial assets. The Company determines probability of default and loss-given default based on available data, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

The Company triggers its assessment whether its financial asset is in default when contractual payments are past due. However, in certain cases, the Company may also consider a financial asset to be in default when internal or external information indicates that the Company is unlikely to receive the outstanding contractual amounts in full before taking into account any credit enhancements held by the Company. A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows.

Financial Liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss, loans and borrowings, payables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value and, in the case of other financial liabilities, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include accounts payable and other current liabilities and due to related parties.

Subsequent measurement

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as interest expense in profit or loss.

Derecognition of financial assets and liabilities

Financial assets. A financial asset (or, where applicable a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized when:

- the Company's right to receive cash flows from the asset has expired;
- the Company retains the right to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or,

- the Company has transferred its right to receive cash flows from the asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the assets, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Where the Company has transferred its right to receive cash flows from an asset and has entered into a “pass-through” arrangement, and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognized to the extent of the Company’s continuing involvement in the asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

Financial liability

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or has expired. Where an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in profit and loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to set off the recognized amounts and there is intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. The Company assesses that it has a currently enforceable right of offset if the right is not contingent on a future event, and is legally enforceable in the normal course of business, event of default, and event of insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company and all of the counterparties.

Mining Rights

Mining rights are stated at cost less any accumulated depletion and any accumulated impairment losses. The cost of the mining rights includes the purchase price and other costs directly attributable to the acquisition. Mining rights are not yet subject to depletion until actual extraction of mineral reserves. Depletion of the mining rights is computed using the unit-of-production method. Mining rights are charged to current operations in the year these are determined to be worthless.

Impairment assessments are made if events or changes of circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the asset may not be recoverable.

Deferred Mine Exploration Costs

Expenditures for exploration works on mining properties (i.e., acquisition of rights to explore, topographical, geological, geochemical and geophysical studies, exploratory drilling, trenching, sampling, and activities in relation to evaluating the technical feasibility and commercial viability of extracting mineral resource) are included under “Deferred mine exploration costs” account in profit or loss. If and when recoverable reserves are determined to be present in commercially producible quantities, the deferred exploration expenditures, and subsequent mine development costs are capitalized as part of the mine properties and mine development costs included as part of property, plant and equipment.

A valuation allowance is provided for unrecoverable deferred mine exploration costs based on the Company’s assessment of the future prospects of the exploration project. Full provision is made for the impairment unless it is probable that such costs are expected to be recouped through successful exploration and development of the area of interest, or alternatively, by its sale. If the project does not prove to be viable or when the project is abandoned, the deferred mine exploration costs associated with the project and the related impairment provisions are written off. Exploration areas are considered permanently abandoned if the related permits of the exploration have expired and/or there are no definite plans for further exploration and/or development.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are carried at cost, less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value.

The initial cost of property and equipment consists of its purchase price and any cost directly attributable to bringing the property and equipment to the location and its working condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. The cost of replacing a part of an item of property and equipment is included in the carrying amount of such an item when that cost is incurred, if the recognition criteria are met.

Major repairs are capitalized as part of the property and equipment only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the items can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are charged against current operations as incurred.

Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of one year for office equipment and furniture and fixtures.

Depreciation and amortization ceases at the earlier of the date that the item is classified as held for sale or included in a disposal group that is classified as held for sale in accordance with PFRS 5 and the date the asset is derecognized.

The assets' estimated useful lives and depreciation method are reviewed periodically to ensure that the periods and method of depreciation are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits from items of property and equipment. The residual value, if any, is also reviewed and adjusted if appropriate, at each statement of financial position date.

When a property and equipment is retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and the related accumulated depreciation and amortization and any impairment in value are removed from statement of financial position and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss. Fully depreciated property and equipment are retained in the accounts until they are no longer in use.

Impairment of Nonfinancial Assets

The Company assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is an indication that the nonfinancial assets may be impaired. If any such indication exists and when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's fair value less cost to sell and its value-in-use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value-in-use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pretax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less cost to sell, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples and other available fair value indicators. Any impairment loss is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company makes an estimate of recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not increase its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation and depletion, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the Company's profit or loss unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case, the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase.

Capital Stock

Capital stock is measured at par value for all shares issued. Incremental costs incurred that are directly attributable to the issuance of new shares are shown in equity as deduction from proceeds, net of tax. Proceeds and/or fair value of considerations received in excess of par value, if any, are recognized as additional paid-in capital.

Retained Earnings

Retained earnings represent the cumulative balance of periodic net income or loss, dividend distributions, correction of prior year errors, effects of changes in accounting policy and other capital adjustments. When the retained earnings account has a debit balance, it is called "deficit". A deficit is not an asset but a deduction from equity.

Interest Income

Interest income is recognized as the interest accrues, using the effective interest method that is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Expenses

Expenses include cost of administering the business and recognized as incurred.

Income Tax

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted as at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax. Deferred income tax is provided using the balance sheet liability method on all temporary differences at balance sheet date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred income tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences and net operating loss carryover (NOLCO), to the extent that it is probable that taxable income will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and carryforward benefits of NOLCO can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax assets to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred income tax assets are reassessed at each balance sheet date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable income will allow the deferred income tax assets to be recovered.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the rate that is expected to apply to the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted as at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset, if a legally enforceable right exists to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and same taxation authority.

Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pretax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Where discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as an interest expense.

Contingencies

Contingent liabilities are not recognized in the financial statements but are disclosed in the notes to financial statements unless the probability of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent assets are not recognized in the financial statements but are disclosed in the notes to financial statements when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Basic/Diluted Earnings (Loss) Per Share

Basic/diluted earnings (loss) per share is determined by dividing net income (loss) by the weighted average number of shares issued and outstanding after giving retroactive adjustment for any stock dividends and stock splits declared during the period. The Company has no financial instrument or other contract that may entitle its holder to common shares that would result to diluted earnings (loss) per share.

Segment Reporting

The Company has only one segment which pertains to its mine exploration activities. The operating segment is reported in a manner that is more consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM). The CODM, who is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segment, has been identified as the BOD that makes strategic decisions. The Company has no inter-segment sales and transactions.

Events After the End of Reporting Period

Events after the end of the reporting period that provide additional information about the Company's financial position at the end of the reporting period (adjusting events) are reflected in the financial statements. Events after the end of the reporting period that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the notes to financial statements when material.

6. Significant Accounting Judgments and Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRS requires the Company to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses and disclosure of contingent assets and contingent liabilities at the balance sheet date. Future events may occur which will cause the judgments, estimates and assumptions used in arriving at the estimates to change.

In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has made the following judgments, apart from those involving estimations, which has the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements. The judgments are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as at the dates of the financial statements.

Determination and classification of a joint arrangement

Judgment is required to determine when the Company has joint control over an arrangement, which requires an assessment of the relevant activities and when the decisions in relation to those activities require unanimous consent. Classifying the arrangement requires the Company to assess their rights and obligations arising from the arrangement. Specifically, the Company considers:

- The structure of the joint arrangement - whether it is structured through a separate vehicle
- When the arrangement is structured through a separate vehicle, the Company also considers the rights and obligations arising from:
 - a. the legal form of the separate vehicle;
 - b. the terms of the contractual arrangement; and
 - c. other facts and circumstances (when relevant).

This assessment often requires significant judgment, and a different conclusion on joint control and also whether the arrangement is a joint operation or a joint venture, may materially impact the accounting.

The Company determined that its joint venture agreement with SECO is not a joint arrangement under PFRS 11.

Management's use of going concern assumption

Management believes that with the commitment from one of its major stockholder to provide continuing financial support in order for the Company to fully service its liabilities when due, for at least 12 months from the balance sheet date, the Company will be able to continue as a going concern. Accordingly, the financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis of accounting.

Determination of impairment of mining rights and deferred mine exploration costs

The Company performs an impairment review of mining rights and deferred mine exploration costs when the following impairment indicators, among others, are present:

- the period for which the Company has the right to explore in the specific area has expired during the period or will expire in the near future, and is not expected to be renewed;
- substantive expenditures on further exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources in the specific area is neither budgeted nor planned;
- exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources in the specific area have not led to the discovery of commercially viable quantities of mineral resources and the Company has decided to discontinue such activities in the specific area; and
- sufficient data exist to indicate that, although a development in the specific area is likely to proceed, the carrying amount of the mining rights and deferred project costs asset is unlikely to be recovered in full from successful development or by sale.

The Company did not identify any indicators of impairment. Accordingly, the carrying amount of mining rights and deferred mine exploration costs totaling ₱322.84 million and ₱321.72 million as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively, is not impaired.

Recognition of deferred income tax asset

The Company's assessment on the recognition of deferred income tax assets on the carryforward benefits of NOLCO and unrealized foreign exchange loss is based on the forecasted taxable income of the following year. This forecast is based on the Company's past results and future expectations on revenues and expenses.

The Company did not recognize deferred income tax assets on the carryforward benefits of NOLCO and unrealized foreign exchange loss amounting to ₱2.61 million and ₱2.42 million as at June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively, since management believes that it is more likely that the Company will not have sufficient future profits against which the deferred income tax can be utilized.

13. Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The Company's principal financial instruments are composed of cash, receivables, accounts payable and other current liabilities and due to related parties. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise finances for the Company's operations.

The main risks arising from the Company's financial instruments are credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's BOD and management review and agree on the policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarized below.

Credit risk

Credit risk arise from default of the counterparty to make payments when due. The maximum exposure to credit risk for the Company's financial asset is represented by the carrying amount of cash in bank amounting to ₱0.46 million and ₱1.03 million as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. The Company's financial asset as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, is neither past due nor impaired.

The credit quality of the Company's financial asset based in historical experience with the corresponding third party is considered as high quality financial assets.

High grade financial assets pertain to those investments to counterparties with good credit standing or loans and receivables that are consistently paid before the maturity.

Cash in bank is deposited in a reputable bank in the Philippines, hence, considered high quality financial asset.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its payment obligations when they fall due under normal and stress circumstances. To limit this risk, the Company closely monitors its cash flows and ensures that credit facilities are available to meet its obligations as and when they fall due.

The Company seeks to manage its liquidity profile to be able to finance its capital expenditures and service its maturing debts. The Company's objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility through valuation of projected and actual cash flow information.

Based on the Company's assessment, the carrying values of its cash in bank as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023 are readily available for liquidity purposes. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company's accounts payable and other current liabilities, excluding withholding tax payable, amounting to ₱4.39 million and ₱4.54 million, respectively, are payable within a year.

Capital Management

The primary objective of the Company's capital management is to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide returns for stockholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital. The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it, in light of changes in business and economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the dividend payment to stockholders, return capital to stockholders or issue new shares.

The Company is not subject to any externally imposed capital requirements. No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes during the period ended June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023.

The amount of capital is the total equity balance as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023 as shown in the balance sheets.

Fair Value

The carrying value of cash in bank, receivables, accounts payable and other current liabilities and due to related parties approximates their fair values as at the end of reporting period due to the short-term nature of these financial instruments.

15. COVID-19 outbreak

In a move to contain the COVID-19 outbreak, on March 13, 2020, the Office of the President of the Philippines issued a Memorandum directive to impose stringent social distancing measures in the National Capital Region effective March 15, 2020. On March 16, 2020, Presidential Proclamation No. 929 was issued, declaring a State of Calamity throughout the Philippines for a period of (6) months and imposed an enhanced community quarantine throughout the island of Luzon until April 12, 2020, which was subsequently extended to April 30, 2020. These measures have caused disruptions to business and economic activities, and its impact on business continue to evolve.

The Company addressed the negative impact of this pandemic by allowing employees to have a work-from-home arrangements. The Company is not yet in a commercial operation, as such the impact of this pandemic is minimal.
